STARS (?) IN

"THE INVISIBLE BRAIN"

HI, MOM!

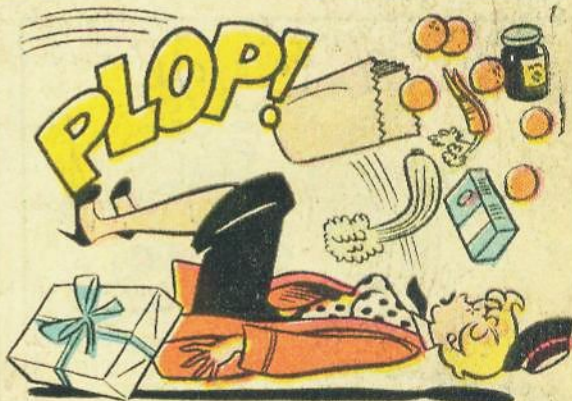

HELLO, BENJAMIN.

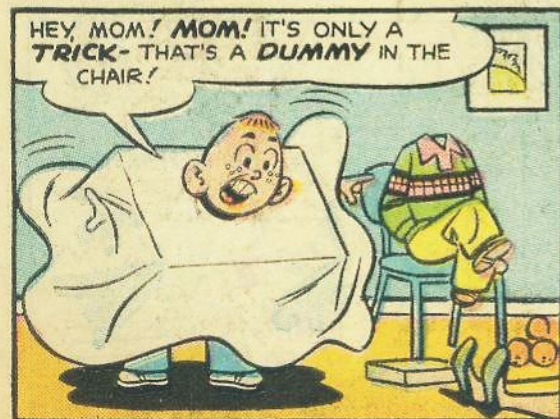

OH NO!

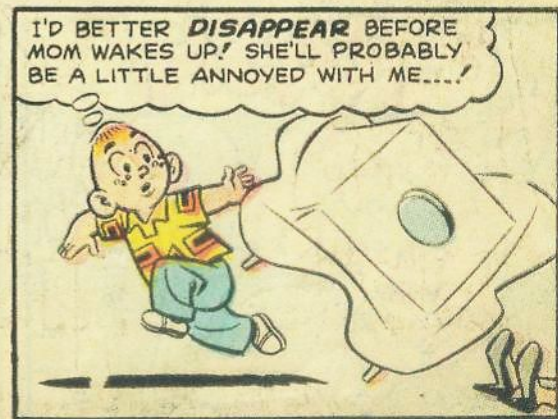

PLOP!

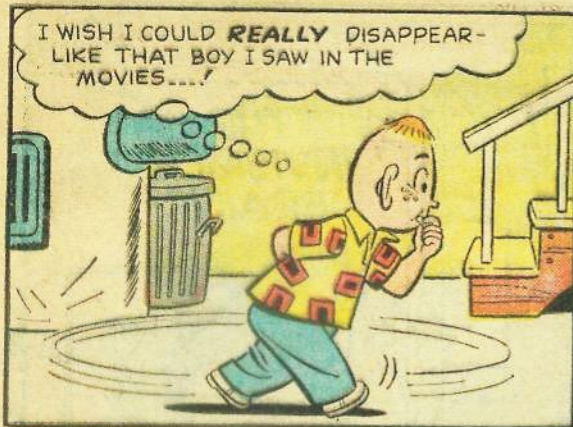

HEY MOM! MOM! IT'S ONLY A TRICK- THAT'S A DUMMY IN THE CHAIR!

I'D BETTER DISAPPEAR BEFORE MOM WAKES UP! SHE'LL PROBABLY BE A LITTLE ANNOYED WITH ME....!

PEOPLE WILL BE AMAZED WHEN THEY SEE THIS BIKE COMING ALONG WITH NOBODY ON IT!

AT DINKY DINKLEHOFF'S HOUSE---

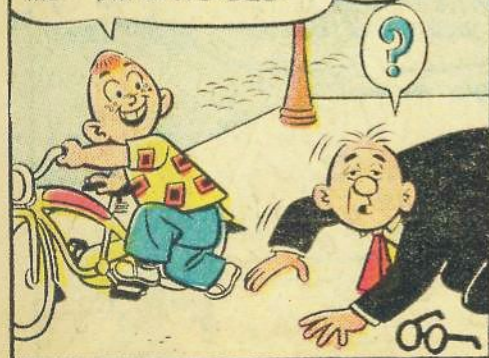

DINKY WON'T BE ABLE TO SEE ANYTHING FOR A FEW MINUTES BECAUSE OF THE DROPS I PUT IN HIS EYES! THEN HE'LL BE OKAY!

SOUNDS LIKE A MOTOR-BIKE! OH, I KNOW! THE BRAIN MUST HAVE PUT A BALLOON ON HIS NEW BIKE!

OF COURSE YOU CAN'T SEE ME---I'M INVISIBLE!

AT THAT MOMENT, THE BRAIN'S FATHER ARRIVES HOME, NOT KNOWING THAT HE'S WALKING INTO A BRAIN STORM!

WHEN POP STEPS ON THE "WELCOME" MAT, AN ELECTRICAL CONTACT CAUSES THE FRONT DOOR TO SPRING OPEN....

...AND A PULLEY-AND-ROPE RIGGED TO THE DOOR CAUSES A "HAND" ON A LAZY-TONGS TO STRETCH OUT IN WELCOME....

ANOTHER ROPE-AND-PULLEY RELEASES A STRONG SPRING, WHICH CAUSES A TEA-CART TO SHOOT FOWARD...

BUT THE SPRING IS STRONGER THAN THE BRAIN FIGURED...

HI YA, POP! HOW DO YOU LIKE MY BRAINSTORM GUEST-GREETER?

HE CAN'T SEE ME EITHER! YAYBO! I REALLY AM THE INVISIBLE BRAIN!

THE BRAIN!

FELLOW BRAINS!

Here we go again, riding out the Brainstorms! Hold your hats and tie down your braids—the mental monsoons are blowing strong! The inventors are inventing, the doodlers are doodling, the March Hares are marching, and we're off in a cloud of confusion!

Your letters are pouring in at such a rate that I'll soon have to dream up a Letter-Reading Machine. But I like to get letters; and if you do too, make sure you print your name and address clearly, so I can put them in my magazine, like this. . . .

RICHARD BENDA

2037 S. 146th
Seattle, Wash.

ERIC JONES (11)
4002 Cambridge Street
Midland, Mich.

BILL SCHRAGE
1471 S. Main

Kalispell, Mont.

MIKE KING

FRANK HERMAN
133-47 114 Place

RALPH WOLFE
336 Kinsley Road
Burnt Hills, N.Y.

JOHN BENDA

2037 S. 146th
Seattle, Wash.

BARBARA PETRAITIS
1704 Easton Avenue
Bethlehem, Penn.

JAMES CORNELL (11)
234 King Street
Syracuse, N.Y.

ROBERT CODY
1 Mohegan Village
Tuckahoe, N.Y.

If you want to become Pen-Pals (or, Fellow Brains) with other kids who read this book, it's a good idea to tell me your age when you write to me—because I don't imagine a girl of eleven would want to be exchanging letters with a boy who is only six. You'll notice those numbers in parentheses next to those names up above: they indicate that Eric, Frank and James are each eleven years old. (They were the only ones who gave their ages, at least in that bunch.) The main thing, though, is to write!

You might not happen to have any Brainstorms? Well, go ahead and write anyway! Like LINDA RAGO, 1814 Fernon Street, Philadelphia, who suggested a Brain Fan Club. I've been working on that, but it needs a little more thought. Here are some more Brainstormers:

MAC BEALL
1739 West 12th
Albany, Oregon

WAYNE YOUNG
49 Willow Street
Rockland, Maine

RICHARD CURRY
1 Dawn Drive
Clark, N.J.

DAVID BROOKS
144-12 Village Road
Jamaica, N.Y.

BOB GIDDINGS
1804 Main Street
Georgetown, Texas

CHARLES J. KRANK
37 72nd Street
Brooklyn, N.Y.

JEFFREY MOLNAR
2315 Delancey Street
Philadelphia, Pa.

CARRIE WILLEY
Rt. 2—Box 16-A
Richmond, Texas

MIKE STICKLER
6000 San Juan, N.E.
Albuquerque, N.M.

JANE RUSSOM wrote from the Silver Saddle Motel in Estes Park, Colorado, and asked for a personal reply. I'm awfully sorry, Jane, but I can't accommodate you: if I replied to everybody personally, I wouldn't have time for Brainstorming; and if I made exceptions, it wouldn't be fair to the rest of my correspondents. Okay?

Quite a variety of Brainstorms are coming in, but certain types continue to be popular. Burglar Traps and Mouse Traps, for instance. PAT KING, 1400 N.E. 23rd, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; LEE GREINER, 128 S. Market, St., Elizabethtown, Pa.; JACK EMERY, 413

W. 34 St., Norfolk, Va.; and WAYNE DuFAULT, 19 Waverly St., Worcester, Mass., sent in Burglar-Trap-Brainstorms. JAMES GRAY, 931-F Maringo St., Chickasaw, Alabama, invented a Mouse-Trap. Pat's trap also catches flies, and Wayne's traps mice! Just to be different, JAMES McCLURE, 1113 North First, Lufkin, Texas, comes up with a CAT-Trapper!

Somebody once wrote that laziness is responsible for most inventions. BARBARA and MICHELE RUDOFISKY of Cleveland, Ohio, seem to prove that: they made a straw so long that they could drink milk through it while talking on the telephone—the point being that they didn't have to hold the glass! But of course we Brainstormers don't really call that "laziness"—we consider it "efficiency!" Once I saw some dishes and spoons you didn't have to wash; when you were through using them, you just ate them too!

The Coloring Page for this issue has been drawn, but colorists are still sending in their artwork and ideas, so I'll mention some of their names here just to get them in:

TAYLOR PRESCOTT
4216 Irving Avenue
Macon, Georgia

LARRY SMITH
3140 Park Place
Wichita, Kansas

PEGGY FLORENCE
108 Dover Road
Manhasset, N.Y.

BILLY MINNIS
Box 253
Twin Lakes, Wisc.

BILLY CARROLL
Craig Drive
Huntington, N.Y.

MILLARD EASOM, JR.
179-57 Anderson Road
Springfield Gardens, N.Y.

RANDY BROWN
Albuquerque
New Mexico

RONNIE RYDER
40 Hasbrouck Pl.
Rutherford, N.J.

STEVE MIKER
National
West Virginia

You nine artists shouldn't feel badly because your names aren't listed in the "20 Best" at the bottom of the Coloring Page: as I said, that page was drawn and sent off to the engraver to process it for printing before your mail reached me. (These type-set pages usually go in at the last minute, but artwork must go in somewhat earlier.)

Another nice letter! LYNNE ENGLE, 703 Mercedo Ave., Oroville, California, writes that she likes my comic books very much, especially because she can "read them over and over and enjoy them every time." Then, just to stand me on my head, KELLY PALMER of Warrensburg, Ohio, comes in with this: "Hey, Brain! I've invented a model-making machine. Myself, I'd like to have one. Well, it's lunchtime. Bye." Kelly drew a diagram, and I can see the gadget is supposed to turn out model planes—but how??? I'd like one too!

Two more burglar traps! One from DENNIS JAASMA, of 36 Second Ave., Little Falls, N.J.—the other all the way from 18 Lono Street, Hilo, Hawaii, the Brainstormer being CLARON YOSHINA, who sent two other ideas along too. Claron also suggested a Brain Club (maybe I ought to do something about that?). Some people have very active heads!

Speaking of active heads—I received a real crazy envelope from PATTY LAWRIE, R.F.D. #2, Seaford, Delaware! It has a note in it, a Coloring Page, a doll made from cotton and pipe-cleaners, a snapshot of her sister, Cathy (it's printed elsewhere in this book), and ten buttons—I guess Patty thinks I'm missing a few of my own! But, speaking of snapshots . . . if you'd like your picture to appear in my book, please try to send one that's sharp and clear, not fuzzy or hard to make out. Sorry, but I can't return any of them.

Then there was a very funny drawing from ROBERT M. MAGNESS, 259 Edgewater Apartments, Baltimore, Maryland, illustrating his Brainstorm: "How to Water the Lawn and Wash the Dog at the Same Time!" It looks like it would be rough on the dog!

Going back to the picture business . . . two boys, CHARLIE ANDERSON, 8706 116th Ave., N.E., Kirkland, Wash., and FRED LEVINE, 3818 Meade Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y., sent in snapshots; but Charlie's was too tiny and Fred's too blurry. If you want me to run your picture in the magazine, please send one where the head is about one inch high, and make sure it's a good one so that it will print well . . . And now it's time to close . . . but keep on writing and sending me Brainstorms—I can always use them!

Best regards,

The Brain
